

West London

SEO AGENCY OF THE YEAR

SEO Engico

Founded in 2018 by Jhonty Barreto and Priyam Goyal, SEO Engico is a search performance agency focused on generating leads, sales and measurable revenue from search. The London-based agency works with businesses across a wide range of sectors, providing SEO, Google Ads, website development, technical SEO, content strategy, link building and AI search visibility. Campaigns are built around commercial keywords, conversion tracking and clear reporting rather than traffic alone. Its engineering-inspired approach brings search, advertising and websites together as one system, helping businesses identify obstacles, improve performance and make informed decisions based on measurable outcomes.

The judges were particularly impressed by SEO Engico's ability to combine technical expertise with a practical understanding of business aims. The agency has helped clients reduce lead costs, increase organic enquiries and grow monthly revenue through joined-up search strategies tailored to each market, budget and ambition. Clients benefit from direct support, clear communication and transparent reporting, ensuring decisions are guided by evidence rather than assumptions. With a focus on solving the causes behind performance issues, SEO Engico provides marketing that connects every part of the customer journey before budget is spent.
